The found in nearly all the other southern states but not in very considerable quantities. The entire south has produced about $15,000,000 of gold since 1799, $48,-900,000 of which came from Georgia and the whole amount will be ready to be pad in London in a few days. The maing of the money, however, has only increased popular feeling in Nicaragua against threat Britain, and the feeling is now very bitter indeed, more so, if possible, than when the British landed at Corinto.

Corinto.

The general opinion seems to be that the Central American republics will form a combination, possibly secret, against tirent Britain and that everything possible will be done to exclude British goods from Central American. This feeling will probably result in commercial gain to the United States. There is no doubt, however, that the action of the three German firms in subscribing so liberal to the indemnity fund will prove a good stroke of business for them. The United States steamship Alert arrived on Monday hat at East Juan Del Sir, from Panama.

The definition in which the gold is so peculiar that Mr. Becker base found it best to disregard the old expression of vein or ledge, and adopt the new stringers of gold-bearing quartz are extensive thin. As a rule they run through a slate formation which has been split apart by thousands of tiny location of the stringers is not more than four inches. As a rule, too, the stringers are short, but are usually commercial at the ends by almost imperception of the stringers are the remaining sold in a breath of one inch. The usual run of ore in the mines that are worked is about $5 per ton. There is comparatively little pan or ordinary placer mining. This little is done by negroes who earn at the best about 75 cents a day. This is enough to pay them for the work under the low scale of labor in the south, but would, of corree, not be an inducement to any one to go there.

Mr. Becker says that he considers the country a good mineral one, and the prospects for investment excellent. The Origin of Champagns.

This was the ought of fizz. The ploneer maker of champagns was a monk, Dom Pengna a charer at the abbey of Hautvilles near I penay, who about the year 1670 began to make experiments in bottling the ram of the district, while in its second state of formentation. He seem found that the cords made of greased henry, which were shound go beral use, were ill stated to his purpose, and he substituted the bank of that species of oak new known as the cold free in England and the chem large in France.
